Possiamo tutto: the fight for meaningful student representation in Italian schools

Organiser: Organising Bureau of European School Student Unions

Come and join us for a dynamic presentation of Possiamo Tutto, a joint initiative by Action Aid Italy and UdS - Unione degli Studenti - the largest secondary school student union in Italy. Its aim is to bring about key changes to decision-making bodies and processes in Italian schools, thus enabling more meaningful participation of students in decision-making regarding them and the education systems they inhabit.

By attending this seminar, you can expect to learn more about how students participate in their learning communities in the Italian context, and how the outcomes of meaningful social sciences research carried out by civil society can support student leadership structures in crafting meaningful campaigns and demands for policy makers.
